

I value my time a great deal, and have benefited from Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law. It has protected me from unwanted calls that disrupt my work, my family time, my dinners, etc. I urge you not to weaken this law, by allowing an established business relationship exemption. The businesses I have an established relationship with are easily reached if I need any information, or services, and I strictly avoid doing business with companies that hound me with calls offering more and more services in which I have no interest. Please protect Indiana's right to privacy, do not weaken the Telephone Privacy Law. Thank you.
